

MECPL Website Audit & Revamp Plan

Evaluating website performance across UX, content, branding, and lead generation with a clear roadmap to transform the digital presence into an engaging, conversion engine.

Key Insight:

Strong Portfolio, Weak UX, Positioning & Conversion

MECPL has real credibility but the website isn't working hard enough to convert visitors into leads. The core opportunity: make the site strategic, not just informational.

Current State

- Strong project portfolio credibility
- Clean but generic messaging
- Weak conversion funnel & CTAs
- Feels informational, not strategic

Opportunity

- Lead with compelling case studies
- Add a strong value proposition
- Introduce CTAs across all pages
- Showcase milestones & metrics

Homepage: Missed Opportunity to Convert

✗ Current State

- No strong headline or hook
- No brand differentiation
- Low visitor engagement

This results in low engagement and high bounce rates. Nothing on the homepage clearly answers: "Why MECPL over competitors?"

✓ Opportunity

- Clear positioning statement above the fold
- Hero CTA: "Start Your Project"
- Add trust metrics & social proof

Portfolio: Biggest Untapped Asset

What You Have Now

- Project images with only names listed
- No project depth or context provided
- No brand positioning or differentiation from competitors
- No outcomes, timelines, or challenges solved
- Visitors leave without understanding MECPL's capability

What It Should Be

- Rich case studies with measurable metrics
- Client name, project scope, and outcome
- Inter-link between pages so audience explores the website
- Highlighted challenges and how MECPL solved them
- A "View Case Study" CTA on every project card

The Fix

Case studies with measurable outcomes

Milestones achieved & awards received

Visual storytelling + Certifications

Conversion: No Lead Funnel Exists

The website has a static contact page with no urgency, no guided journey, and no multiple touchpoints to capture interest at different stages.

Static Contact Page

Single form, buried at the bottom, visitors must actively seek it out

No Urgency

Nothing motivates a visitor to act now rather than leave and forget

Sticky CTA Needed

A persistent "Enquire Now" button visible on every scroll position

Multiple Enquiry Points

Capture leads from the hero, portfolio, services, and footer sections

Conversion Strategy

Designing a Clear User Journey

A high-performing construction website doesn't leave visitor navigation to chance. Every page should have a defined role in moving the prospect closer to a conversation with MECPL's team.

By engineering this journey deliberately with strategic CTAs, trust signals, and content depth at each stage, MECPL can dramatically increase the rate at which website visitors become qualified leads and ultimately signed clients.
